

Your Father's Nose

You share distinct genes from each of your parents which accounts for why someone might say 'hey - you have your father's nose'. Play with this simple exhibit to exchange facial features with a friend to see what your children might look like!

Concept and design by Gary Renaud
Client: Exploratorium/Diving into the Gene Pool Client: Arizona Science Center

www.exhibiteers.com