

Skeleton on a Bicycle

A visitor pedals a bicycle that is connected to a second bicycle. A complete anatomically correct skeleton is mounted on the second bicycle. As the visitor pedals, the skeleton pedals its bicycle revealing how our skeletal system appears as it performs this simple task.